

Maame Adobea Amoyaw (May) is the Founder and Principal Cultural Strategist at Silver Link Strategies. For over a decade, she has worked at the intersection of economic development, art, and cultural policy. May bridges the gap between government planning and business growth. Through Silver Link Strategies, she designs art-forward development plans that helps cities modernize their policies and help businesses expand.