

Hon. Hellen Chabunya is a Senior Research Fellow at the Women and Public Policy Program at Harvard Kennedy School, where her work examines the intersections of gender, political participation, and institutional reform. She also serves as Vice President of the UTM Party in Malawi, Board Chairperson of the Coalition for the Empowerment of Women and Girls (CEWAG), and Director of Rephaiah Pharmaceutical Manufacturing Company. In addition, she is a large-scale farmer and founder of Chuma, a social enterprise advancing food security through climate-smart agriculture. Her research and practice draw on extensive experience across the United Kingdom, Europe, and Africa, bridging scholarship and policy implementation. Hon. Hellen Chabunya holds degrees from the University of Oxford and Harvard University.