

Randall Kennedy has been a member of the Harvard Law School faculty since 1984. He attended Yale Law School, served as a law clerk to Justice Thurgood Marshall, and has written several books, the most recent of which is Say It Loud: On Race, Law, History and Culture.